The Holocaust was one of the most terrifying in human history. I for myself had the topic "Holocaust" (or shoa as we jews refer it) 4 times in my school career. And we visited once the Konzentrationslager (concentration camp ... not death camp) near Munich. We had an exchange student from Texas in our class that year. It was a very embarrassing situation to walk through the memorial place which Dachau is for now.

Because I descend from German Jews (my maternal grand dad (I hope this translation is correct at all...) was Jewish and just survived because a Protestant priest faked a birth certificate in which he didn't refered as "Jewish".

I don't believe in some kind of original sin but the things happened in Germany 60 and 70 years ago are just as terrifying as they were yesterday. And we get reminded every second day.

And the most disgusting thing at last: "Du Jude!" ("you Jew!" in English) becomes a swearword again, that's alarming.

Da hast du, und wünsch der Dame viel Erfolg! 😊
