

Radio StarWeb braucht Deine Hilfe

Beitrag von „Oliver Twist“ vom 6. März 2009 um 15:22

Von Jamendo gabs gerade folgende Mail:

Zitat

Hello,

Thank you for contacting jamendo and for your interest in using music from our artists.

jamendo has a rich and competitive offer in store for you if you need music for any type of commercial use: film, TV, documentary, advertising, internet, corporate uses and more.

If your project is non commercial, you can use the music without paying for a license as long as your project respects the rules of the Creative Commons (<http://www.jamendo.com/en/creativecommons>).

A project is non commercial if you do not charge for its access or sell it, there is no advertising, it was not created to promote a business, and you were not paid to create the project.

If your project is commercial or does not respect the rules of Creative Commons, then you have to purchase a license.

We offer a professional service, including cost-free music consultancy services and a solid licensing agreement guaranteeing the music is totally cleared and that no collective rights society can claim any royalties or payment for the use of jamendo music from you.

Please find attached our tariffs - enjoy our very special prices until the 15th of March.

Let me know.

Best,
ALan

Alles anzeigen

Die Deutsche CC-Lizenzaufschlüsselung gibts hier:
<http://www.jamendo.com/de/creativecommons>