I see. Since German micronations are split into two communities who only share some metaevents like Olympics we got two maps as well (some minor stuff from a fantasy micronation and some foreign bypassers not included). You might find my own country the Shah'in Futuna (or Schahtum Futuna) on the CartA map here where we even got the same color as you have. Since contact to foreign micronations is pretty meta in my eyes treaties and embassies are out of question it seems. Which sort of contacts did you envision anyway?
